INTRODUCTION

Margin Trading facility means where a broker allows clients to buy stocks just by paying margin (from approved list of stocks) and not the total value of stocks is known as Margin Trading Facility. Clients can carry the position just by maintaining minimum margin.

Normally clients buy and sell stocks with their own money. However, some specific stocks may look attractive at some point in time either because of market conditions or some sector/company specific news. If clients don't have the required funds to trade in a particular stock, then the client can opt for margin trading facility. Margin Trading facility helps clients to trade in stocks where they are required to put in certain percentage as the margin amount (similar as a down payment in any loan product). This margin amount will vary from stock to stock, Stewart & Mackertich will fund the rest of the transaction so that the clients are able to purchase these share with an interest charged as and when clients give consent and register himself for MTF Segment and avail the Margin Trading facility. The interests are applied to the Margin Trading Account unless the clients decide to make payment.

There are restrictions on the stocks, clients can buy on Margin Trading. The Securities and Exchange Board of India regulates which stocks are marginable. As a general rule and practice clients are not allowed to purchase penny stocks or Initial Public Offerings (IPO) on Margin as risks involved with these types of stocks is high. Stewart & Mackertich can independently decide not to margin certain stocks, so check what restrictions exist on your Margin Account. The buying power of a margin trading account changes daily depending on the price movement of the marginable securities in the account.

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) in its endeavor to regulate, develop and keep pace with the dynamic securities market, to protect the interest of investors and in line with its experience in dealing with Margin Trading Facility had prescribed a framework for permitting stock brokers to provide margin trading facility to their clients vide various circular SEBI/MRD/SE/SU/Cir-16/04 dated March 31, 2004 and circular MRD/DoP/SE/Cir- 08/2005 dated March 04, 2005.
