Latest News Update

The Bank of Japan must avoid reducing stimulus even if rising raw material costs push up inflation, deputy governor Masazumi Wakatabe said, reinforcing expectations it will fall behind major counterparts in dialling back crisis-mode policies. An advocate of aggressive monetary easing, Wakatabe also said the BOJ was unlikely to follow suit when the U.S. Federal Reserve enters a tightening cycle given Japan's low inflation. Unless accompanied by strong domestic demand, cost-push inflation alone will not generate a sustained pick-up in prices toward the central bank's 2% target, Wakatabe said. Japan's economy emerged from last year's pandemic-induced slump helped by robust global demand. But a resurgence in infections and supply chain disruptions have dashed hopes among policymakers for a strong rebound in July-September growth. "Even if the Fed were to shift to a tightening phase, that alone won't prod the BOJ to adjust monetary policy," he said. "It's crucial to avoid tightening easy monetary conditions prematurely by looking just at near-term moves in the core consumer price index," Wakatabe said in a speech.

Asia's factory activity lost momentum in August as a resurgence in coronavirus cases disrupted supply chains across the region, raising concerns faltering manufacturing will add to the economic woes caused by slumping consumption. Manufacturing activity in August expanded at a slower rate in Japan, South Korea and Taiwan as chip shortages and factory shutdowns disrupted production, in a fresh sign of the lingering impact of the pandemic, surveys showed. China's factory activity slipped into contraction in August for the first time in nearly 1-1/2 years as COVID-19 containment measures, supply bottlenecks and high raw material prices weighed on output. The result was well below market expectations, underscoring the fragile nature of China's recovery that had helped the global economy emerge from the pandemic-induced doldrums. The Caixin/Markit Manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) fell to 49.2 last month, from 50.3 in July, breaching the 50-mark that separates growth from contraction.

Gold yesterday settled down by -0.11% at 47068 as the dollar index edged up from a one-month low, as investors awaited a key U.S. jobs report for clues on when the Federal Reserve might start reducing its pandemic-era stimulus measures. U.S. manufacturing activity unexpectedly picked up in August amid strong order growth, but a measure of factory employment dropped to a nine-month low, likely as workers remained scarce. The Institute for Supply Management (ISM) said its index of national factory activity inched up to 59.9 last month from a reading of 59.5 in July. U.S. private employers hired far fewer workers than expected in August, likely because of a resurgence in new COVID-19 infections, but the labor market continues to steadily recover. Private payrolls increased by 374,000 jobs last month after rising 326,000 in July, the ADP National Employment Report showed. U.S. construction spending picked up in July, lifted by gains in both private and public sector projects. The Commerce Department said that construction spending increased 0.3% after being unchanged June. Construction spending rose 9.0% on a year-on-year basis in July. Technically market is under long liquidation as market has witnessed drop in open interest by -3.07% to settled at 11109 while prices down -52 rupees, now Gold is getting support at 46940 and below same could see a test of 46812 levels, and resistance is now likely to be seen at 47236, a move above could see prices testing 47404.

A measure of U.S. consumer confidence hit a six-month low in August as consumers were put off by higher gasoline and grocery prices. Inflation in the U.S. is running at the highest level in 30 years based on the Federal Reserve's preferred price barometer. Inflation in the euro zone hit its highest level in almost a decade in August, according to an estimate from the EU's statistics office Eurostat. ECB policymaker Robert Holzmann said the central bank should start debating how it will phase out its pandemic-era stimulus. Fed Chair Jerome Powell told policymakers he believes "substantial further progress" has been made on some metrics, but the Fed will carefully assess incoming data and the evolving risks before deciding on QE tapering. Crude oil yesterday settled down by -0.66% at 4993 as Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries and their allies, a group known as OPEC+, have fulfilled a goal of removing excess oil from the global market and it is now important to keep the market balanced, Russia's top negotiator, Alexander Novak, said. "Joint actions allowed to take away (oil) excess accumulated when demand was down - think we have fulfilled this task. Now it is important to maintain this balance and synchronize production and demand as the market rebounds," Novak, also a deputy prime minister, said. Global oil demand is seen growing by 5.8-6 million barrels per day this year, Novak told, adding he saw the global oil market fully restored next year. U.S. crude stocks and distillate inventories fell while gasoline inventories rose, the Energy Information Administration said. Crude inventories fell by 7.2 million barrels in the week to August 27 to 425.4 million barrels, compared with expectations for a 3.1 million-barrel drop. Crude stocks at the Cushing, Oklahoma, delivery hub rose by 836,000 barrels in the last week, EIA said. U.S. gasoline stocks rose by 1.3 million barrels in the week to 227.2 million barrels, the EIA said, compared with expectations for a 1.6 million-barrel drop. Technically market is under fresh selling as market has witnessed gain in open interest by 17.97% to settled at 4740 while prices down -33 rupees, now Crude oil is getting support at 4916 and below same could see a test of 4838 levels, and resistance is now likely to be seen at 5067, a move above could see prices testing 5140.

Nat.Gas yesterday settled up by 7.19% at 341.2 as key production facilities in the U.S. Gulf of Mexico remained offline while energy firms assessed the aftermath of Hurricane Ida. A total of 1.705 million barrels per day of oil production and 2.107 billion cubic feet per day (bcfd) of natural gas output remain shut following evacuations at 278 platforms due to Hurricane Ida, the Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement said. Data provider Refinitiv said total U.S. production averaged 92.0 bcfd in August, versus 91.6 bcfd in July. That compares with an all-time monthly high of 95.4 bcfd in November 2019. The amount of gas flowing to U.S. LNG export plants has slipped to an average of 10.5 bcfd in August from 10.8 bcfd in the previous month, and much below April's 11.5 bcfd record. U.S. pipeline exports to Mexico dipped to an average 6.2 bcfd in August from July's 6.6 bcfd, and a monthly record of 6.7 bcfd in June. With a cooler season around the corner. Refinitiv projected average U.S. gas demand, including exports, would slide from 94.3 bcfd last week to 92.4 bcfd this week, as power generators burn less of the fuel with air conditioning demand easing. Technically market is under fresh buying as market has witnessed gain in open interest by 41.58% to settled at 20093 while prices up 22.9 rupees, now Natural gas is getting support at 325.9 and below same could see a test of 310.6 levels, and resistance is now likely to be seen at 350.1, a move above could see prices testing 359.

Daily Commodity Analysis Report Thursday, September 2, 2021

Copper yesterday settled down by -1.76% at 708.25 as concerns of weak demand from top consumer China were stoked by the country's disappointing factory data. The state reserves administration in China said it released 150,000 tonnes of copper, aluminium and zinc into the market, completing the third round of metal auctions designed to keep a lid on prices. China's factory activity slipped into contraction in August for the first time in nearly 1-1/2 years as COVID-19 containment measures, supply bottlenecks and high raw material prices weighed on output. Manufacturing activity in August in other Asian major economies of Japan, South Korea and Taiwan also expanded at a slower rate on chip shortages and factory shutdowns. Factory activity in East Asia, India, Russia and Britain lost momentum in August, surveys showed. Euro zone manufacturing growth remained strong but raw materials prices rose. Chile's state-owned Codelco, the world's largest copper producer, said it has reached an early collective bargaining agreement with the five unions representing workers at its key El Teniente mine. A majority of workers had rejected a previous proposed agreement in mid-August. The company did not specify the details of the new agreement. Technically market is under fresh selling as market has witnessed gain in open interest by 14.6% to settled at 4789 while prices down -12.7 rupees, now Copper is getting support at 702.8 and below same could see a test of 697.2 levels, and resistance is now likely to be seen at 717, a move above could see prices testing 725.6.

Zinc yesterday settled down by -0.69% at 243.1 after data showed that factory activity slowed in August across swathes of Europe and Asia. In China, by far the biggest metals consumer, manufacturing contracted for the first time in nearly 1-1/2 years. China's state reserves administration successfully released a total of 150,000 tonnes of copper, aluminium and zinc into the market, it said, completing its third round of metal auctions. The National Food and Strategic Reserves Administration added that it would continue to release metal reserves based on market supply, demand and prices. The global zinc market was undersupplied by 20,200 tonnes in June following a revised deficit of 23,500 tonnes in May, data from the International Lead and Zinc Study Group (ILZSG) showed. Previously, the ILZSG had reported a deficit of 17,900 tonnes in May. During the first six months of 2021, the ILZSG data showed the market saw a surplus of 36,000 tonnes, down from a surplus of 385,000 tonnes in the same period of 2020. Asia's factory activity lost momentum in August as a resurgence in coronavirus cases disrupted supply chains across the region, raising concerns faltering manufacturing will add to the economic woes caused by slumping consumption. Technically market is under fresh selling as market has witnessed gain in open interest by 1.2% to settled at 1010 while prices down -1.7 rupees, now Zinc is getting support at 242.1 and below same could see a test of 241.1 levels, and resistance is now likely to be seen at 244.4, a move above could see prices testing 245.7.

Daily Commodity Analysis Report Thursday, September 2, 2021

Nickel yesterday settled down by -1% at 1431.6 in light of a disappointing reading of China PMI for August and hawkish signals sent out by the European Central Bank. The premium for LME cash nickel over the threemonth contract has risen above $40 a tonne from about zero a week ago, pointing to tighter supply of quickly deliverable metal. On the fundamentals, nickel ore prices maintained momentum, supporting ferronickel prices combined with tightened supply and demand from steel mills. New energy sector is still in demand of nickel as the inventories already disclosed were comparatively low, favouring nickel prices. China's factory activity slipped into contraction in August for the first time in nearly 1-1/2 years as COVID-19 containment measures, supply bottlenecks and high raw material prices weighed on output in a blow to the economy. Japan's factory activity expanded at a slower rate in August as a resurgence of coronavirus cases in Asia disrupted supply chains across the region, sinking overseas orders into contraction for the first time in seven months. Manufacturers withstood the pandemic's hit in part thanks to their positive outlook for the coming twelve months, even as the highly infectious COVID-19 Delta variant is pushing countries in Asia-Pacific back into lockdown mode. Technically market is under long liquidation as market has witnessed drop in open interest by -0.06% to settled at 1596 while prices down -14.4 rupees, now Nickel is aetting support at 1422.1 and below same could see a test of 1412.7 levels, and resistance is now likely to be seen at 1443.6, a move above could see prices testing 1455.7.

The bidding for the third batch of national reserves completed, and the highest bid price stood at 20271 yuan/mt in Anhui. The current batch (70000 mt) is expected to supplement the short supply of aluminium but with minimal effect. Aluminium stocks at three major Japanese ports fell 11.1% to 274,900 tonnes at end-July, from 309,100 tonnes end-June. On the macro front, US consumer confidence index in August fell to six-month low due to Delta variant. U.S. manufacturing activity unexpectedly picked up in August amid strong order growth, but a measure of factory employment dropped to a nine-month low, likely as workers remained scarce. Technically market is under long liquidation as market has witnessed drop in open interest by -14.59% to settled at 1803 while prices down -1.35 rupees, now Aluminium is getting support at 210 and below same could see a test of 208.4 levels, and resistance is now likely to be seen at 213.3, a move above could see prices testing 215.
