Marico expects better demand, margin in H2FY23 on likely cooling of commodity prices

FMCG firm Marico expects demand and margin trends to improve towards second half of FY23 on likely easing of crude and edible oil prices in next few months, said the latest annual report of the company. It will closely watch the rural growth and is hopeful of a recovery in demand in light of the good harvest season, normal monsoon forecast and government spending. On the margin front, Marico, which has oil brands such as Saffola and Parachute in its portfolio, said there is "some degree of comfort" given that copra price, which constitutes about half of its raw material basket, is expected to remain benign. Marico, which also owns brands such as Hair & Care, Nihar and Livon, will continue to maintain a sharp focus on driving penetration and market share gains across its portfolios aided by distribution expansion, cost controls and investment in market development and brand building.
